Morocco Units May Try Grab Of Desert Oil

Tunisian Maneuvers Labeled as Threat To Algerian Regime

ALGIERS (AP) — Moroccan troops occupied areas of the Algerian Sahara today in a new challenge to Nationalist Premier Youssef Ben Khedda's moderate regime. Fears arose that Tunisia also would try to make good its claim to parts of the oil-rich desert.

Already reeling from internal turmoil that threatens civil war, the Algerian leaders were shocked and disillusioned by the land-grabbing move of Morocco's King Hassan II. But the Ben Khedda regime appeared powerless to move against the Moroccan occupation until it had set its own house in order, and the Algerian leadership split was as wide as ever.

Rebellious Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, the radical leftist who split with Ben Khedda on the eve of Algerian independence, kept up a steady drumfire of criticism of the Algerian regime from his refuge in Cairo.

In an apparent play for military support, he accused Ben Khedda of wanting to liquidate the 140,000 man Nationalist army and the "popular revolution." Defining his economic policies, he said, "Frankly, I mean socialism."

In Rabat, Mohammed Khider, a Ben Bella supporter who resigned from Ben Khedda's cabinet last week, accused Ben Khedda of trying to seize power in Algeria illegally. Khider and other Ben Bella supporters have seized possession of the Algerian Nationalist legation in the Moroccan capital.

The Moroccan move was disclosed only three days after Algeria was proclaimed independent from France. Algerian officials said Moroccan infantrymen moved into several desert posts in the area of Tindouf and Colomb Bechar.

Tindouf, a lead mining center, is about 60 miles inside Algerian territory from the Moroccan border. Colomb Bechar, an important French military base, is about 15 miles inside the border. Apparently no Algerian troops were in either area and French troops there made no move to interfere.

In Rabat, Moroccan officials denied any invasion of Algerian soil claiming that Moroccan troops merely had occupied frontier territory considered to be Moroccan. It was apparent, however, that Morocco did not consider the territory negotiable. King Hassan reportedly had already received leaders of local tribes in the occupied areas and they swore allegiance to the Moroccan crown.

Mothers Plan To Join Sons In Boot Camp

LONDON (AP) — Three British army recruits are going into the army next week with their mothers.

The mothers will remain at the army camp only one week. Their sons, all volunteers, will stay considerably longer.

The mothers will go on special invitations from the British army. "We aim to show the mothers exactly what goes on in the early days of a recruit's training," explained Maj. Edward Smeeden, a Royal Engineers adjutant.

The mothers and sons are Mrs. Olyvyn Billett and her Eric, 19; Mrs. Grace Collingworth and Barry, 19; Mrs. Joyce Bowler and Neil, 18.

"When Eric told me he was joining the army, I told him he must be out of his mind," Mrs. Billett said.

"Getting into something with all that getting up early and discipline. Then they invited me to come and see for myself."

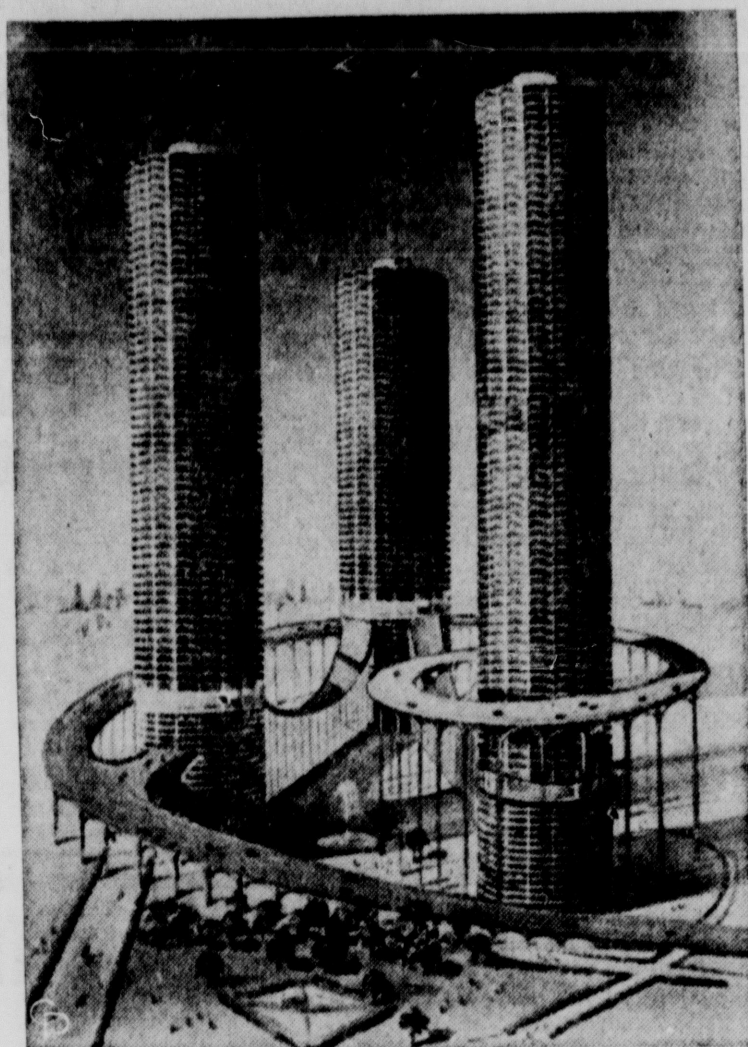

Mrs. Collingworth, who said her week with the army will be her first week away from housework for 25 years, told a reporter: "I want to see their kitchens."

The mothers will be billeted with married army families at the engineers camp near Cove.

Mrs. Billett had the next to last word: "They promised not to get us up at 6 in the morning."

Phone Conversation Leads Police to Holdup Attempt

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was a telephone conversation between two sisters that gave police the jump on a robbery attempt in a downtown office building Friday. Two men were captured after a gun battle in which a holdup man and a policeman were shot.

The gunfight was at the Sun Finance Loan Co. on the second floor of the Caxton Building, 812 Huron Road, during the lunch hour.

Traffic Patrolman Alvin Charactor, 34, first of about 30 policemen who responded to a robbery-in-progress call, was wounded in the upper right arm by a shotgun blast. At St. Vincent Charity Hospital doctors said his arm might have to be amputated.

Also in guarded condition at the hospital was Edward T. Spaulding, 24, the policeman's assailant, who was shot three times in the abdomen.

Miss Lucy Mastropietro, 33, a loan company employee, was talking to her sister, Mrs. Anthony J. Ciarrillo, on the telephone when the gunmen entered.

Mrs. Ciarrillo said she thought she heard a voice say "hang up" and the click of the telephone as the phone went dead. She said her sister had been telling her she thought there was going to be a holdup. Mrs. Ciarrillo phoned police, and an alarm was broadcast.

Police identified Spaulding's accomplice as Clarence E. Steplight, 21, who was captured when he crawled out to an inner corridor during the shooting.

A third man was nabbed during the confusion, but he told police he was in the office only to apply for a loan. He was still being questioned Friday night.

Spaulding was seized in the tear-gas-filled office by a squad of six men. He had barricaded himself behind office furniture.

James A. Shima, assistant manager of the loan company, said Spaulding and Steplight came in shortly after noon and inquired about a loan, but left when they were told they would need co-signers. They returned a few minutes later with a shotgun, announced it was a holdup and started herding employees into a back room.

Shima said Spaulding took the key to a cash drawer from the neck of Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, 18, an office trainee. He forced Miss Fitzpatrick to put $1,100 in bills in a shopping bag just before Patrolman Charactor entered, police said. The money was found on the floor.

Charactor's cruiser partners — Patrolmen Frank Mulweg, 27, and Eugene Withers, 36 — burst in as the first shotgun blast was fired.

"Both of us shot him (Spaulding)," Withers said.

A large crowd gathered to watch the battle, ignoring police warnings of danger from stray bullets.

Mama Breaks Up Romance in Paris

PARIS (AP) — A sobbing 18-year-old American student identified only as Susan M. was hustled aboard a New York-bound plane Friday by Paris police.

Waiting aboard the plane was the girl's mother, who had flown to Paris to break up her daughter's romance with a French youth.

Police said Susan had been sent to France to study art. When her mother heard about the romance, she ordered Susan home but got no response. The mother located Susan with the help of Paris police.

Senate OK Seen For Medicare Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of President Kennedy's social security health care plan for the elderly predicted today it would pass the Senate by next Wednesday or Thursday.

Their confidence was bolstered by a voice vote defeat Friday of a Republican substitute in the first voting test—but not a very conclusive one—on the strongly disputed legislation. Only about 15 senators were present at the time.

The substitute was offered by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky. He proposed that the program be financed from general revenues of the treasury and provide federal payments for private health insurance premiums for persons over 65.

Democratic leaders originally had pushed for passage of the administration plan this week. But their hopes were dashed by absenteeism over the Fourth of July holiday and determined opposition from foes of any Social Security approach.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he probably would be willing to consider a limitation on debate by next Wednesday. Dirksen blocked such a time limit Thursday, contending there was a need for further discussion.

Sponsors of the administration proposal agreed Friday in response to reporters' queries that the plan also would raise the minimum Social Security retirement payment.

The reason is that one method of obtaining additional revenue in the Kennedy plan is to raise from $4,800 to $5,200 the annual base on which Social Security taxes are paid.

This would boost the funds available for retirement payments since the portion of the Social Security taxes used for this purpose would also be applied to the additional $400 base.

Thus the present $127 monthly maximum for an individual would be raised to $134, and the payment for a man and wife from $191 to $201.

The GOP substitute defeated Friday was offered by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky. When Morton's proposal came up he did not ask for a recorded vote and his amendment went down on a voice vote.

Rail Dispute Snagged Again

Fuss Appears Headed Back to White House

CLEVELAND (AP) — The nation's railroads and the union leaders of 200,000 rail operating employees appeared today to be routing their long and bitter dispute over manpower economies on a track leading back to the White House.

It was from a presidential commission that a recommendation came last Feb. 28 to eliminate 40,000 freight train firemen and affect other manpower economies. Negotiations between the carriers and the unions on the report opened April 2 and broke off June 22.

Meeting here Friday, leaders of five operating unions rejected as "premature" an offer from the National Mediation Board to arbitrate the dispute. They want to negotiate some more.

The carriers, who had accepted the arbitration, want no more bargaining. Through their chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe of Chicago, they declared the action of the union chiefs left no alternative but to serve notice on the unions the recommendations will be made effective.

Wolfe, who was in New Orleans, noted the railroads could not act until the federal mediation board formally terminates its services in the dispute. This is expected with in a few days.

And in Washington, Robert O. Boyd, National Mediation Board member, said neither side could make a move until 30 days after the board formally notifies each side of the other's response to the arbitration offer.

"If any railroad puts into effect any part of the presidential railroad commission's recommendations arbitrarily, I'll guarantee that carrier won't be running," commented Roy E. Davidson, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and a participant in Friday's meeting here.

After the 30 days, however, the carriers legally could put the economies into effect and the rail brotherhoods could strike, unless the President intervened by naming an emergency board to recommend a settlement. This would head off a strike for another 60 days or more.

Accused Slayer Of Brother Held

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — A tip from the Wood County Protective Association, a group formed to assist law officers, led to the arrest Friday of a man sought for questioning in the fatal shooting July 4 of his brother.

Michel Flames, 43, was apprehended as he walked from a store in nearby Portage. He had been sought in the death of Marcel Flames, 41, whose body was found in a pickup truck about a half-mile from Michel's farm home.

Marcel's wife said the brothers had argued bitterly over whether to admit their father to a rest home.

Michel is being held for questioning.

High-Altitude Pacific Shot Delayed again

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — Military scientists scheduled two above-ground nuclear blasts today, the first atmospheric shots here since 1958—amid unconfirmed reports that troops are en route for a battlefield test early next week.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Pentagon refused to say anything about the reported movement of troops, but dozens of tanks were observed on flatcars rolling through nearby Las Vegas Friday.

The shots planned for today were described as low yield devices, to be detonated only a few feet from the ground. Low yield indicates an explosive power of 20 kilotons—equal to 20,000 tons of TNT—or less.

The United States has announced 42 underground nuclear explosions at the Nevada test site since the resumption of testing last September, including Friday's 100-kiloton hydrogen blast.

Today's devices are the first to be exploded above ground this year, however, since this nation, the Soviet Union and Great Britain agreed to halt nuclear testing Oct. 31, 1958. The agreement was broken by the Soviet Union, and both that country and the United States have been holding atmospheric tests in the Pacific.

Secrecy shrouded today's activities. All roads onto the site were closed.

The military nature of the shots was indicated by a statement that the Department of Defense, not the AEC, would conduct varied experiments to analyze the effects of nuclear explosions.

One of the devices was described as a weapon—possibly a forerunner of the test set for next week.

The AEC said radioactivity from the shots would be monitored at distances up to 300 miles, but predicted that off-site radiation would be well within established ranges.

Meanwhile, the United States, plagued by delays and failures in an effort to detonate a high-altitude nuclear warhead over the Pacific, prepared again today to set off a shot that has been postponed three times.

Joint Task Force 8 officials here announced that the latest 24-hour postponement Friday night was caused by unfavorable weather. The blast was rescheduled for between 11 tonight and 2:30 a.m. Sunday (4 a.m. and 7:30 a.m., EST Sunday).

The device, when exploded, is expected to be the highest and biggest in the current test series. It is to be lifted off by a Thor missile and fired 200 miles above tiny Johnston Island, about 750 miles southwest of here.

Clouds hovered over the antenna-dotted test island since mid-afternoon and high winds and rain squalls were predicted nearby.

Clear skies are necessary for the proposed one megaton blast so scientist can photograph the hot

The same shot was delayed the previous night, also apparently because of high winds and possibly for technical reasons.

It was to have been the United States' third attempt to detonate a high-altitude blast in the current test series, which began last April 24.

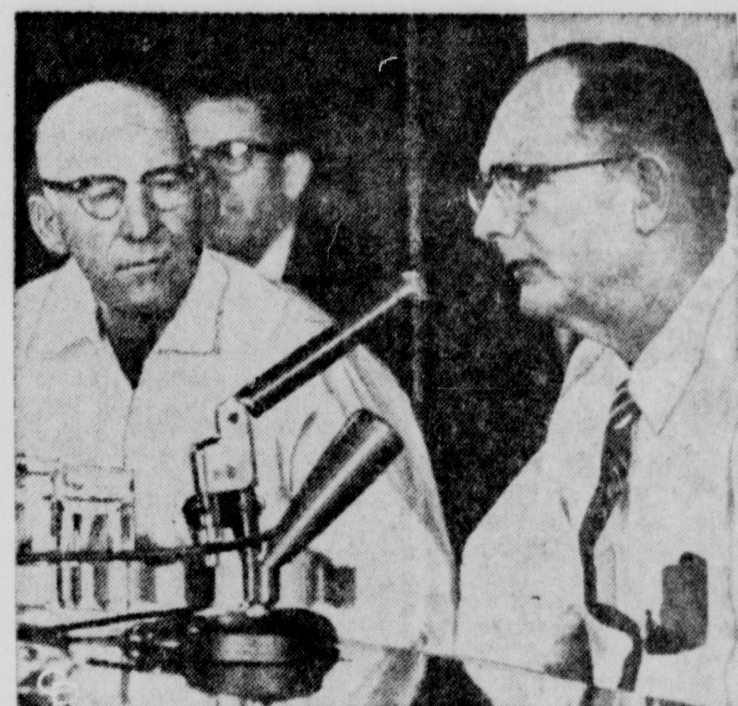

Efforts to explode a similar warhead 200 miles high fizzled on June 4 and June 19 when missile troubles developed.

'Black Panther' Seen In Springfield Area

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Folks in this area report an unlikely critter has been roaming the Champaign-Clark County area the past month.

First seen in Champaign County, it now has been reported seen just four miles north of here.

Everyone who has seen it says it's a black panther. And Deputy Sheriff William Cookus has tracks in a cornfield to prove some animal was there. The tracks measure over three inches long and two and three-quarter inches wide with distinct claw marks.

U.S. Lifts Red Travel Ban, Hopes Russians Do Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elimination of travel restrictions on Soviet visitors to the United States could lead to a further improvement in U.S.-Russian relations, officials said today. It all depends on how the Soviet government reacts.

The U.S. action, personally approved by President Kennedy, was announced Friday by the State Department.

Beginning immediately, the approximately 2,000 Russians who visit the United States each year will be as free to travel as any other foreign tourists.

In a note handed by Undersecretary of State George Ball to Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, the State Department informed the Soviet government of its action and asked for a reciprocal Russian step to contribute to "better mutual understanding and... broadening of cooperation between the peoples of the two countries."

If Soviet Premier Khrushchev should react by cutting back on restrictions on the travel of more than 11,000 Americans who now visit the Soviet Union each year, the way would probably be opened for other measures on improving relations.

One possibility could be renewal of active consideration of an agreement for direct air service between Moscow and New York. The text of such an agreement was negotiated and initiated last year. But arrangements were broken off in mid-August in the midst of the crisis over the Berlin wall. The State Department said at the time it was inappropriate to sign the agreement in view of the international situation.

Friday's action clearly coincided with President Kennedy's policy of trying to remove where possible sources of irritation in American-Russian relations.

Restrictions on Soviet travel in the United States were imposed in 1955 in retaliation for Soviet travel restrictions on foreigners, including Americans, which dated back to 1941.

Agricultural engineers have developed a new mechanical device called a space basket which enables fruit growers to cut in half the costs of pruning trees.

Ohio ranked seventh among the states last year in liveweight production of hogs, according to the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Egg production per hen in Ohio increased from 133 to 213 from 1930 to 1960, according to Ohio State University Extension Poultry Specialists.

Ohio State University Extension Specialists say that broiler growers can now produce a pound of broiler with two pounds of feed, while 30 years ago it took five pounds of food to produce a pound of broiler.

Of the total fats and oils used in shortening in 1961, 47 percent was soybean oil, 22 percent was lard, 14 percent was cottonseed oil, and 14 percent was beef fats.

When tomatoes are staked, you should tie the stems loosely to the stakes. Stakes should be 4 to 6 feet tall and the plants tied with soft twine four to six times during the growing season, according to Ohio State University Extension Horticulturists.

Ohio State University's soil testing laboratory last year handled more than 70,000 soil samples.

OHIO RANKS third in the nation in number of bee colonies, with 285,000, and it is one of the 10 leading states in honey production.

THE RELATION of net farm income to farm debt is less than $2 debt for every $1 of annual income. This is about the same ratio that existed in the early 1940's.

VACATION TIPS

Vacations are for fun from start to finish. But arrangements and preparations must be made. Be- forehand planning can make vacations more fun for everyone both during the vacation and upon return home. A number of things should be done before you leave.

Don't wait too long to: Have your car checked and overhauled; pay particular attention to brakes, steering gear, tires, lights, cooling system, battery, windshield wipers; see your physician, your health is as important to your vacation as the state of your car; make sure every member of the family visits the dentist, don't let toothache spoil the fun; arrange for boarding your pet with a friendly neighbor or veterinarian.

Before you leave: lock all windows, including those in attic and basement; leave the shades up; Sheets thrown over furniture will keep colors from fading in the sun unplug all electrical appliances; turn off all gas stove burners and water heaters; leave the pilot lights on; ask the paper boy and milkman to stop deliveries; arrange for someone to pick up the mail; A stuffed mailbox is a sure sign that you are away. Give the post office a forwarding address if you will be away long; leave the house key with a neighbor and also your vacation address; make sure the jack and other tools are in the car plus flares, car fuses, flashlight, fresh batteries and bulbs; notify the police that you will be away.

With all of these plans made and taken care of you should have a happy vacation. But how will you take care of the small children and keep them happy in the car? This too takes some planning and preparation. Perhaps some of these following tips will help you.

1. Make a set of safety rules before you start — no standing on the seats, no putting anything out the windows, including heads and arms, no roughhouse play.
 2. Plan short driving days with stops that fit the youngsters' eating and sleeping schedule.
 3. Tell the children where you are going and how long it will take.
 4. Take minimum care clothing and not too much. Coin operated laundromats are everywhere.
 5. Good first aid equipment, placed in a handy spot in the car, is a must.
 6. Something familiar for bedtime may comfort a child sleeping in a strange place.
 7. Avoid restaurant rush hours. Equipment for picnic lunches along the way allows small fry to get out and let off steam as well as eat.
 8. Plan for car games and activities to pass the time.
 9. Be prepared for emergencies. Have heavy paper bags at hand for sudden car sickness.
 10. A damp wash cloth kept in a plastic bag can be used to sponge off hot, sticky children.
- Pull off the road if emergencies arise. Don't try to settle back seat wars or kill bees while driving the car. Settle difficulties and then continue your journey.
- Have a safe and happy vacation.

Combination of 2,4D and 2,45T Can Control Cucumber and Milkweed Type Plants in Corn

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Many of our farmers have encountered considerable difficulty in controlling wild cucumber and the milkweed type plants in corn.

The amounts of 2,4D necessary to control these are so great that considerable damage can be caused to the corn. Several of our local farmers have experienced good results with a mixture of 50-50 2,4D and 2,45T. This is considered to be a little risky since the manufacturers of 2,45T have never recommended 2,45T on corn.

In searching for some information, there were two incidences where 2,45T was used on corn, as follows:

Early post-emergence 2,45T on corn done at the Ohio Station by Hill and Wilford. The work included replicated 4 row plots on non-uniform Miami - Brookston soil. Ohio C-38 corn was drilled on June 6. The corn was sprayed 6 days after planting. 2,45T was applied at 1/2, 1, 2, and 4 pounds acid equivalent per acre in 10 gallons of water. The 1/2 pound rate controlled 50 per cent of annual grasses and broadleaf weeds. One pound gave adequate control of all annuals on Miami soil but was not enough on the Brookston. Two and four pound rates resulted in excellent control of annual weeds on both soil types. Canada thistle was controlled at the four pound rate, which was before thistle emergence. The two pound rate reduced the growth of corn on the Miami soil but not Brookston, while the four pound rate caused definite injury to corn on both soils.

In work done by Purdue by Les and Zalick, on tolerance of corn to 2,45T, replicated plots of corn were sprayed at two stages of growth with 2,45T at rates of 1/4,

1/2, and one pound of acid per acre. Sprays were applied when corn was 12 inches in height and just before tasseling or at a height of approximately 6 feet. The later was applied as a basal spray.

All rates applied during the early stages of growth caused some lodging and malformation of brace roots. No visible effect was noted from the pre-tassel application. No significant reduction in yield was noted. The check plot yielded 102 bushels per acre, the 1/4 pound rate 103 bushels per acre, 1/2 pound rate 95 bushels per acre, and the one pound rate 100 bushels per acre. This seems to be the extent of research done with 2,45T on controlling weeds in corn. Although no one seems to recommend it with reasonable caution it appears that it might be worth a try in some of our problem fields.

Combination of 2,4D and 2,45T Can Control Cucumber and Milkweed Type Plants in Corn

By GEORGE HAMRICK

Many of our farmers have encountered considerable difficulty in controlling wild cucumber and the milkweed type plants in corn.

The amounts of 2,4D necessary to control these are so great that considerable damage can be caused to the corn. Several of our local farmers have experienced good results with a mixture of 50-50 2,4D and 2,45T. Early post-emergence 2,45T on corn done at the Ohio Station by Hill and Willard. The work included replicated 4 row plots on non-uniform Miami - Brookston soil. Ohio C-38 corn was drilled on June 6. The corn was sprayed 6 days after planting. 2,45T was applied at 1/2, 1, 2, and 4 pounds acid equivalent per acre in 10 gallons of water. The 1/2 pound rate controlled 50 per cent of annual grasses and broadleaf weeds. One pound gave adequate control of all annuals on Miami soil but was not enough on the Brookston-Two and four pound rates resulted in excellent control of annual weeds on both soil types. Canada thistle was controlled at the four pound rate, which was before thistle emergence. The two pound rate reduced the growth of corn on the Miami soil but not Brookston, while the four pound rate caused definite injury to corn on both soils.

In work done by Purdue by Les and Zalick, on tolerance of corn to 2,45T, replicated plots of corn were sprayed at two stages of growth with 2,45T at rates of 1/4,

1/2, and one pound of acid per acre. Sprays were applied when corn was 12 inches in height and just before tasseling or at a height of approximately 6 feet. The later was applied as a basal spray.

All rates applied during the early stages of growth caused some lodging and malformation of brace roots. No visible effect was noted from the pre-tassel application. No significant reduction in yield was noted. The check plot yielded 102 bushels per acre, the 1/4 pound rate 103 bushels per acre, 1/2 pound rate 95 bushels per acre, and the one pound rate 100 bushels per acre. This seems to be the extent of research done with 2,45T on controlling weeds in corn. Although no one seems to recommend it with reasonable caution it appears that it might be worth a try in some of our problem fields.

Walnut Whippettes

By Sandra Sanderson

The Walnut Whippettes 4-H club toured three business places on June 26. The group left Walnut School at 9:30 a. m. Their first stop was Lindsey's Bakery. There they were shown how to decorate cakes. They were shown how to shape various rolls and coffee cakes, bread, and how the doughnuts were glazed. We were also told about the general operation of the bakery. We were most surprised to learn that most of their baking is done starting around 1 a. m. when we are all fast asleep. Each member was given a doughnut at the end of the tour.

The next stop was the Pickaway Dairy. There the group was shown the processes milk goes through from the time it leaves the farmer's milk cans until it is ready for public use. They showed us the processes used in making powdered milk. Although we didn't get there in time to see the butter being made, we did see it being packaged. At the end of the tour through the dairy each girl was given an ice cream bar as a gift of the dairy.

The group then went to Ted Lewis Park for their noon meal and some recreation.

After lunch the Sheriff's Office and county jail were visited. The sheriff's secretary told the group some of the responsibilities of the sheriff's office and some of the routine. Deputies Pontius, Kerns, and Waters then took the group through the jail where we saw the prisoners now in jail. We were told how they were cared for and shown their sleeping quarters.

We were shown the fingerprinting room and were given a demonstration on the fingerprinting. One of the girls, Kathy Gray, was the victim. Deputy Kerns took the group and showed them the cruiser he uses himself, and told us a few of the things he had come up against in the course of his work. It was a very interesting day for all the group and I'm quite sure we all learned quite a lot from our tour.

The same day of the tour, June 26, the 4-H safety speaking contest was held at Star Grange. Kathy Gray represented the club and although she didn't win first place, we want to congratulate her on a very nice safety talk.

Jerry Vance conducted a short business meeting at Logan Elm Park following the tour.

On June 26, the club met again at First Methodist Church with club president, Robert Bower, presiding. Plans were made for the club's display at the fair. David McDonald and Norman Wilson will serve as chairmen for this. The club donated $10 toward the expense of the addition being made to the dairy barn at the fairgrounds.

Stir and Chatter

The last two meetings of the Winter Wheat Harvest Run Very Early

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that harvest of the 1962 winter wheat crop in the nation's breadbasket is one of the earliest in history.

And, the department says, another week of favorable weather contributed to the rapid development of the corn crop.

Combining of winter wheat in Texas, Oklahoma and most of Southern Kansas has been completed.

Early harvesting date records are being set in all states from Nebraska, where 80 per cent of the winter wheat crop is harvested, to Indiana, where 40 per cent of the crop is combined.

Topsoil moisture supplies are short in Southern Iowa, most of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Black stem rust has reduced winter wheat yield prospects in Nebraska.

Height of corn in the main-producing corn belt ranges from 30 inches in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana to 34 inches in Ohio. This is 6 to 12 inches higher than last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has made a study to see how farmers adjusted to the loss of part of their real estate for a stretch of super highway in Iowa.

It checked a three-year history of 80 farms crossed by a 33-mile segment of Iowa Interstate 35 south of Des Moines. It took all or part of six sets of farm buildings and just under 7 per cent of the farm land in the 80 operating units.

Some of the farms crossed by the highway quickly added as much land as they lost, or more. But, after three years, more than half had failed to regain their original size. The highway substantially increased the scattering of fields.

Also, compared with other farms, the farms crossed by the highway showed a substantially higher rate of disappearance and were involved in more real estate transactions. The Iowa Highway Commission assisted farmers in reorganizing their unit by helping them buy, sell and trade land parcels or remnants.

Stir and Chatter 4-H club were held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Sterling Poling, on June 12 and June 27.

At the first meeting the club prepared lunch on an outdoor grill and planned a party which was given on June 27.

On June 27 a short meeting was held in the morning. While a part of the membership prepared a casserole lunch others prepared for the party which was held in the afternoon.

The party was a "Let's Pretend Birthday Party" for a group of pre-school children living in foster homes. The children were entertained by a playlet given by Kathy Macklin, Gail Wolfe, and Lorna Poling, a candy hunt and games. A gift was presented to each child and refreshments were served. Those present were Elma Bryant, Shirley Borrer, Debra Brungs, Cindy Wolfe, Lance Mason, Jeffrey Griffey, Cathy Thompson, and Keith Griggery. Gifts were sent to Paul Beckman and Dorothy and Johnnie Hitch who were unable to attend.

Other guests were Miss Emma Lou Tackett, County Extension Agent, Home Economics, Mrs. Mary May Yates, Secretary to the Child Welfare Board, Mrs. Clinton Aldenderfer, Mrs. Lewis Bery, Mrs. Ray Jenkins, Mrs. Richard Rhymer, and her daughter Venita.

GOP Says Dem Borrows GOP Tactic in Fiscal Reporting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Finance Director James H. Maloon drew satisfaction from his report that the state ended its bookkeeping year June 30 with an unencumbered balance of $3 million in general operating funds.

The preliminary figures contrasted with earlier Republican speculation that the beleaguered fund might wind up in the red unless Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle cut state spending.

Various deficit estimates ranged from $30 million to about twice that sum.

Republicans now claim that Maloon borrowed a fiscal tactic from the GOP administration of former Gov. C. William O'Neill to help end a long series of so-called overcommitments in the general fund.

Back at the start of the 1959 fiscal year, O'Neill's finance director dropped customary use of a monthly reserve, or "set-aside," for quarterly school foundation.

The "set-aside" was charged against the general fund pending distribution of public school subsidies. Critics asserted that the elimination was made to show school fund balances between school subsidy payments.

Cries of manipulation were raised and DiSalle made an issue of the change in his successful gubernatorial campaign. After taking office, DiSalle ordered the "set-aside" restored in monthly financial reports.

The change-back contributed to general fund overcommitments ranging from $46.5 million last October and nearly $32 million at the end of March.

Then a Columbus reporter in DiSalle's doghouse described an over commitment as an obligation by the state to spend that much more than the cash then in the general fund.

At his next news conference, DiSalle said the monthly "set-aside" would be changed in financial statements and the obligation included with others against an estimate of expected revenues for a better fiscal picture.

Critics asserted that a monthly "set-aside" of about $20 million towards a nearly $60 million quarterly school subsidy due next month would have resulted in a $17 million overcommitment for June.

It also was pointed out that Maloon made larger - than - usual transfers from the liquor control fund to bolster the general fund. They asserted the transfers had the effect of shifting general fund obligations to the liquor fund with resulting delays in payments to liquor suppliers.

Maloon listed $54.2 million in liquor fund transfers, $8.2 million above normal. Others insisted the transfers actually totaled $58.2 million, $12.2 million more than normal.

They explained that Maloon authorized a $4 million transfer on the last day of the previous fiscal year but that the voucher—state term for a check—was not issued until the third day of the following fiscal year.

Maloon included the $4 million in his report for the previous fiscal year although the cash wasn't in hand at that time, officials said.

The same transfer resulted in a $4 million difference in reports of total state revenues by Maloon, state Auditor James A. Rhodes, and state Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

Maloon listed all revenues at $1,690,000,000 but the others carried the sum of $1,694,000,000.

The finance director, who prefers the word "manage" to the term "manipulation," listed expenditures at $1,665,000,000 to put the state's total annual operation "in the black" by more than $25 million.

A separate report by Rhodes set expenditures at $1,673,000,000. Vouchers authorized but not issued could account for the difference in figures.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee said state income exceeded outgo by $21 million for the fiscal year in contrast to the previous year when spending exceeded revenue by more than $65 million.

"While expenditures during the fiscal year just ended were $45 million higher than last year, receipts showed an increase of $142 million," Rhodes said.

Watch for Corn Leaf Aphid

By GEORGE HAMRICK

County Extension Agent,

It is hard to tell just what effect our hot, dry spring will have on the damage done by the corn leaf aphid.

Farmers have one factor in their favor. This insect does more damage to late planted corn and most of the corn in the county was early planted. The dry, hot weather has set corn back, however, so the aphid may be a factor.

The corn leaf aphid is more destructive when the weather is dry. With a lack of moisture in the soil and the aphids attacking the plant at the same time yields are considerably reduced.

Farmers should watch the tassels of corn as they emerge from the whorl. If 25 per cent or more of the plants are heavily infested and soil moisture is still low, spray with Malathion or Parathion when 25 to 50 per cent of the tassels have begun to show. This will need to be applied by airplane or a "high-boy".

An even better treatment is phorate (thimet) at the rate of 10 pounds of 10 per cent granules per acre broadcast so some granules fall in the whorl. Thimet and parathion are very dangerous. No farmer should take the risk of using either insecticide without following the precautions on the label.

Religious Unity Trend Is Seen By Churchmen

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP)—

Four hundred delegates to the Council of Community Churches have declared the trend to worldwide religious unity exists, whether denominations actually merge or not.

The statement of purpose adopted at a business session of the five day conference here on the campus of Otterbein College is the first ever approved by Community Church spokesmen.

In part, the delegates declared themselves "a free fellowship witnessing at the national level to ecumenicity in community which is the oneness of God's people where they are" and exists as a spirit irrespective of merging denominations and organizational unity."

This does not mean the Community Churches are not interested in unity, Richard I. Porter, minister-at-large, said, adding they are in conversation with representatives of the Church of Christ (Disciples) and the United Church (formerly Congregational-Christian and Evangelical and reformed) formed only recently.

Delegates at the conference represent some 30 Community Churches throughout the U. S.

BAGWORMS

This insect is widely distributed in central Ohio. The eggs have just completed hatch and the tiny caterpillars are beginning to form their silken bag. The larvae will continue to eat and grow and enlarge this bag.

Now is the time to spray with Lead Arsenate at 4 tablespoons per gallon of water, or Malathion at 4 tablespoons of the dry 25 per cent per gallon of water or 1 tablespoon of the 57 per cent liquid per gallon of water.

CHIGGERS

Chiggers are the larval form of one family of mites. One ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure. Repellents applied to the sock tops and elsewhere in accordance with directions are very effective. A good repellent is dimethyl phthalate. If they seem to congregate in your yard you can spray the lawn with 2 1/2 oz. of Aramite, 15 per cent W. P., in 5 gallons of water per 1000 square feet of lawn. Lindane, 25 per cent powder, at 2 tablespoons per 5 gallons of water, or Chlordane, 45 per cent liquid, at 1/2 pint per 5 gallons of water will treat 1000 square feet.

Wrong Church

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Richard M. Acree of Cedar Rapids drove to Huxley, Iowa, the other day to attend the wedding of a business associate. He went to one of two Lutheran churches, but when the bridegroom made his appearance, Acree realized that he was, literally, in the wrong pew.

He slipped out of the church as quietly as possible, but he had to go to the reception room — to retrieve the gift he had left there, then hustle to the right wedding.

It checked a three-year history of 80 farms crossed by a 33-mile segment of Iowa Interstate 35 south of Des Moines. It took all or part of six sets of farm buildings and just under 7 per cent of the farm land in the 80 operating units.

Some of the farms crossed by the highway quickly added as much land as they lost, or more. But, after three years, more than half had failed to regain their original size. The highway substantially increased the scattering of fields.

Also, compared with other farms, the farms crossed by the highway showed a substantially higher rate of disappearance and were involved in more real estate transactions. The Iowa Highway Commission assisted farmers in reorganizing their unit by helping them buy, sell and trade land parcels or remnants.

Stir and Chatter 4-H club were held at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Sterling Poling, on June 12 and June 27.

At the first meeting the club prepared lunch on an outdoor grill and planned a party which was given on June 27.

On June 27 a short meeting was held in the morning. While a part of the membership prepared a casserole lunch others prepared for the party which was held in the afternoon.

The party was a "Let's Pretend Birthday Party" for a group of pre-school children living in foster homes. The children were entertained by a playlet given by Kathy Macklin, Gail Wolfe, and Lorna Poling, a candy hunt and games. A gift was presented to each child and refreshments were served. Those present were Elma Bryant, Shirley Borror, Debra Brungs, Cindy Wolfe, Lance Mason, Jeffrey Griffey, Cathy Thompson, and Keith Grigey. Gifts were sent to Paul Beekman and Dorothy and Johnnie Hitch who were unable to attend.

Other guests were Miss Emma Lou Tackett, County Extension Agent, Home Economics, Mrs. Mary May Yates, Secretary to the Child Welfare Board, Mrs. Clinton Aldenderfer, Mrs. Lewis Bery, Mrs. Ray Jenkins, Mrs. Richard Rhymer, and her daughter Venita. Members of the hostess group were Patty Glitt, Donna Stephens, Diana Sluser, Patty Robinson, Lorna Poling, Kathy Macklin, Sue Barnhill, Carol Strawser, Melissa Matz, Linda White, Gail Wolfe, Keitha Wagner, Debbie Woods, and Janey Wiggins.

GOP Says Dem Borrows GOP Tactic in Fiscal Reporting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Finance Director James H. Maloon drew satisfaction from his report that the state ended its bookkeeping year June 30 with an unencumbered balance of $3 million in general operating funds.

The preliminary figures contrasted with earlier Republican speculation that the beleaguered fund might wind up in the red unless Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle cut state spending.

Various deficit estimates ranged from $30 million to about twice that sum.

Republicans now claim that Maloon borrowed a fiscal tactic from the GOP administration of former Gov. C. William O'Neill to help end a long series of so-called overcommitments in the general fund.

Back at the start of the 1959 fiscal year, O'Neill's finance director dropped customary use of a monthly reserve, or "set-aside," for quarterly school foundation payments.

The "set-aside" was charged against the general fund pending distribution of public school subsidies. Critics asserted that the elimination was made to show bigger fund balances between school subsidy payments.

Cries of manipulation were raised and DiSalle made an issue of the change in his successful gubernatorial campaign. After taking office, DiSalle ordered the "set-aside" restored in monthly financial reports.

The change-back contributed to general fund overcommitments ranging from $46.5 million last October and nearly $32 million at the end of March.

Then a Columbus reporter in DiSalle's doghouse described an overcommitment as an obligation by the state to spend that much more than the cash then in the general fund.

At his next news conference, DiSalle said the monthly "set-aside" would be changed in financial statements and the obligation included with others against an estimate of expected revenues for a better fiscal picture.

Critics asserted that a monthly "set-aside" of about $20 million towards a nearly $60 million quarterly school subsidy due next month would have resulted in a $17 million overcommitment for June.

It also was pointed out that Maloon made larger - than - usual transfers from the liquor control fund to bolster the general fund. They asserted the transfers had the effect of shifting general and obligations to the liquor fund with resulting delays in payments to liquor suppliers.

Maloon listed $54.2 million in liquor fund transfers, $8.2 million above normal. Others insisted the transfers actually totaled $58.2 million, $12.2 million more than normal.

They explained that Maloon authorized a $4 million transfer on the last day of the previous fiscal year but that the voucher—state term for a check—was not issued until the third day of the following fiscal year.

Maloon included the $4 million in his report for the previous fiscal year although the cash wasn't in hand at that time, officials said.

The same transfer resulted in a $4 million difference in reports of total state revenues by Maloon, state Auditor James A. Rhodes and state Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

Maloon listed all revenues at $1,690,000,000 but the others carried the sum of $1,694,000,000.

The finance director, who prefers the word "manage" to the term "manipulation," listed expenditures at $1,665,000,000 to put the state's total annual operation "in the black" by more than $25 million.

A separate report by Rhodes set expenditures at $1,553,000,000. Vouchers authorized but missed could account for the difference in figures.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee said state income exceeded outgo by $21 million for the fiscal year in contrast to the previous year when spending exceeded revenue by more than $65 million.

"While expenditures during the fiscal year just ended were $45 million higher than last year, receipts showed an increase of $142 million," Rhodes said.

Watch for Corn Leaf Aphid

By GEORGE HAMRICK

County Extension Agent,

It is hard to tell just what effect our hot, dry spring will have on the damage done by the corn leaf aphid.

Farmers have one factor in their favor. This insect does more damage to late planted corn and most of the corn in the county was early planted. The dry, hot weather has set corn back, however, so the aphid may be a factor.

The corn leaf aphid is more destructive when the weather is dry. With a lack of moisture in the soil and the aphids attacking the plant at the same time yields are considerably reduced.

Farmers should watch the tassels of corn as they emerge from the whorl. If 25 per cent or more of the plants are heavily infested and soil moisture is still low, spray with Malathion or Parathion when 25 to 50 per cent of the tassels have begun to show. This will need to be applied by airplane or a "high-boy".

An even better treatment is phorate (thimet) at the rate of 10 pounds of 10 per cent granules per acre broadcast so some granules fall in the whorl. Thimet and parathion are very dangerous. No farmer should take the risk of using either insecticide without following the precautions on the label.

Religious Unity Trend Is Seen By Churchmen

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP)—

Four hundred delegates to the Council of Community Churches have declared the trend to worldwide religious unity exists, whether denominations actually merge or not.

The statement of purpose adopted at a business session of the five day conference here on the campus of Otterbein College is the first ever approved by Community Church spokesmen.

In part, the delegates declared themselves "a free fellowship witnessing at the national level to ecumenicity in community which is 'the oneness of God's people where they are' and exists as a spirit irrespective of merging denominations and organizational unity."

This does not mean the Community Churches are not interested in unity, Richard I. Porter, minister-at-large, said, adding they are in conversation with representatives of the Church of Christ (Disciples) and the United Church (formerly Congregational-Christian and Evangelical and reformed) formed only recently.

Delegates at the conference represent some 30 Community Churches throughout the U. S.

Insect Alerts

BAGWORMS

This insect is widely distributed in central Ohio. The eggs have just completed hatch and the tiny caterpillars are beginning to form their silken bag. The larvae will continue to eat and grow and enlarge this bag.

Now is the time to spray with Lead Arsenate at 4 tablespoons per gallon of water, or Malathion at 4 tablespoons of the dry 25 per cent per gallon of water or 1 tablespoon of the 57 per cent liquid per gallon of water.

CHIGGERS

Chiggers are the larval form of one family of mites. One ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure. Repellents applied to the sock tops and elsewhere in accordance with directions are very effective. A good repellent is dimethyl phthalate. If they seem to congregate in your yard you can spray the lawn with 2½ oz. of Aramite, 15 per cent W. P., in 5 gallons of water per 1000 square feet of lawn. Lindane, 25 per cent powder, at 2 tablespoons per 5 gallons of water, or Chlordane, 45 per cent liquid, at ½ pint per 5 gallons of water will treat 1000 square feet.

Wrong Church

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Richard M. Acree of Cedar Rapids drove to Huxley, Iowa, the other day to attend the wedding of a business associate. He went to one of two Lutheran churches, but when the bridegroom made his appearance, Acree realized that he was, literally, in the wrong pew.

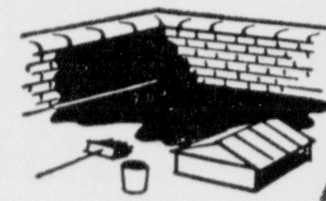

He slipped out of the church as quietly as possible, but he had to go to the reception room — to retrieve the gift he had left there, then hustle to the right wedding.

One Common Denominator

Land reforms one of the factors most spoken of by economists as a necessary prerequisite to economic growth in the many areas of the world now classified as underdeveloped. Whether it be Kenya or Brazil, China or Iran, one of the most formidable stumbling blocks to elevating the living standards of the inhabitants beyond the subsistence stage is land reform.

What is land reform? To many persons, perhaps, it denotes better distribution of land in countries where a landed aristocracy has controlled the most desirable sections of land for centuries. Free some of this land for settlement and development by the landless peasants and all food problems will be solved, or so the argument goes.

A United Nations report has been issued on a world study of land reform and tenure changes which have been made in various countries, with varying degrees of success. It points to China as the horrible example of how land reform experimentation can make conditions worse instead of better. China has no landed aristocracy (if one excludes government dictation over who will "own" the land) but it has a worsening agricultural output.

China has tried virtually all types of planned tenure, from turning the land over to the peasants through cooperatives, collectivization, strictly regulated communities, and now — it is alleged — back to individual ownership of small plots. China's greatest resource is hand labor, and Peiping has practically no capital to subsidize communist agriculture.

In other countries — Greece, Northern Rhodesia and Italy are excellent examples — the consolidation of small farms into large acreages under single ownership, after the United States pattern, has been successful because of the introduction of mass farming techniques and equipment.

Agriculture, like any other industry, possesses no panacea applicable to any spot in the world. Climate, terrain, availability of manpower, capital and technical know-how, taxes, government stability and interference, and proximity to markets, all effect the type of agricultural unit which will be most successful.

Only one common denominator exists: Development of a desire on the part of the man who tills the soil to put forth his best effort and making it possible for him to attain his goal. Subjecting him to the warring shims of changing political doctrines stifles the incentives he needs.

The Political Months

By George Sokolsky

Unfortunately, time, tides and politics wait for no man. The entire House of Representatives, a third of the Senate or more, and a number of Governors will be elected in 1962. The political campaign has already started and both aspirants more than great affairs. The Kennedy Administration must concern itself with this political situation, for should the next Congress be Republican, it might be very embarrassing.

Foreign Sugar Lobbyists Face Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to institute a full-scale investigation into efforts by lobbyists for foreign governments to influence United States policies.

The inquiry would take in—but also go beyond—the ground to be covered in a subcommittee study of the efforts of foreign agents in connection with this year's sugar legislation.

Congressional figures indicate sugar lobbyists were paid more than $500,000 by their foreign government clients, and President Kennedy at his news conference Thursday called their activities unfortunate.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said that in addition to the sugar bill operations the new study would go into attempts to pressure Congress into increased foreign aid allotments and other activities by nondiplomatic personnel.

By voice vote the committee unanimously approved a resolution by Fulbright calling money for the investigation.

Approval by the Senate itself would be required. The more narrowly aimed Judiciary investigation was announced Thursday.

IN THE LAST PIECE that James Thurber wrote, the great humorist took a dim view of modern trends in his chosen field. "Comedy," he noted, "didn't die; it just went crazy. It has identified itself with the very tension and terror it once did so much to alleviate. The roost is ruled today by what has been called the comedy menace: horror jokes, magazines known as horror comics, and sick comedians. . . . Life at the moment is a tale told in an idiom, full of unsoundness and fury, signifying nonism."

Wilfred Peterson compresses into a few words a whole course in the gentle art of salesmanship: 1. Courteous words instead of sharp retorts. 2. Smiles instead of blank looks. 3. Warmth instead of coldness. 4. Attention instead of neglect. 5. Patience instead of irritation. 6. Remembering people instead of forgetting them. 7. Action instead of delay. 8. Appreciation instead of apathy.

Two elderly ladies wandered into Yankee Stadium just as Roger Maris unloaded a prodigious home run into the right-field stands. They sat watching the proceedings that followed in apathetic silence until a few innings later, Maris came up again and hit another homer to virtually the same spot as the first one. One of the ladies nodded at this point and said, "We can go now, Hilda. This is where we came in."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Q. Does good nutrition really help children grow tall?

A. Definitely! Today's children are head and shoulders above their elders.

But is this good?

Possibly not, says Dr. Paul White, heart specialist who helped care for President Eisenhower. Tall children may actually outgrow their hearts and risk early heart trouble. Who said good things don't come in small packages?

Q. (1) What's in a vitamin B-12 injection? (2) How harmful is an overdose?

A. (1) Just Vitamin B-12 crystals dissolved in salt solution with a pinch of preservative. (2) Doses thousands of times greater than your daily need don't seem the least bit harmful.

Q. How long must you cook frankfurters before they're safe?

A. Frankfurters come already cooked. If they've been properly sealed or refrigerated, you can eat them raw. Hot Dog!

Q. My husband drinks constantly. He also gulps down giant doses of vitamins. Is he hurting anything besides our budget?

A. Chronic drinking leads to inflamed stomachs, scarred livers, wet brains and broken-down nerves. No one knows how much stems from alcohol and how much from vitamin-lack and protein deficiency.

With help your husband can sober his mental outlook. But a mind that's always pickled is too stiff to bend!

Q. Can any B vitamin help psoriasis?

A. B vitamins don't seem to help, but giant doses of vitamin A may tip the scales in your favor. Let your doctor prescribe the exact dose. A daily overdose can poison you.

Q. Can any vitamin restore natural color to gray hair?

A. Not as well as hair dyes! Para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA) — a B vitamin — can darken the coat of graying mice, but it rarely works in humans.

Q. What's the difference between regular and creamed cottage cheese?

A. Creamed cottage cheese contains extra fat — cream. It supplies more fatty vitamin A — and more fatty calories, too!

What would you like to know about vitamins and diet?

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

This is a true collector's item, kiddies—it shows Bobby Darin and wife Sandra Dee together! They're explaining to our own Army Archerd (left) how this photo positively, but definitely, must NOT fall into the "wrong" hands!

Young Stars Are Filmdom's New 'America's Sweethearts'

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD Bobby Darin and Sandra Dee would be this era's version of "America's Sweethearts" — personified by Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers in the early days of movies. The Rogers are still happily married today and Darin plans to equal their record in a town whose marital mishaps have been enjoying a bumper crop this year.

Darin, the young man in a hurry to reach the top — has done so. Now, he wants to take his time enjoying continued success — but with Mrs. D. And to accomplish this, he mimes no words to anybody who would try and saw rungs from his ladder of marital success.

Bobby, along with his pretty wife, carry on a relentless war against any and all they find trying to hint, infer, accuse them of having any kind of marriage problems. Thus, their togetherness is so completely intense.

However, despite their "togetherness," both prohibit the taking of films of both of them — except during scenes which actually require appearance of both. Still photographers on their sets have strict orders NOT to attempt to take any pictures except those they authorize.

When Darin played the Flamingo, Miss Dee did not attend the press party following his opening — to prevent pictures being taken of them together.

When she visited him on the set of pictures he made without her, "Hell Is for Heroes" and "State Fair," the studios were also informed NOT to photograph them.

The picture here is, therefore, a collector's item. It was not taken during a scene. It was taken with their permission for reproduction here. But Darin insisted that it would not, under any circumstances, fall into the hands of fan magazines with whom he is warring!

Well, here it is. Did you ever see two happier looking kids (present company excused)? Frame it if you want, and save it for your grandchildren—and see if Bobby and Sandra Darin are still "America's Sweethearts"!

The picture was taken on the set of their film, "If a Man Answers," in which Darin plays, of all things — a photographer! Furthermore, Miss D. plays a model in the frilliest and sometimes figure-revealing clothes. If Darin ever caught his bride posing in any such costumes, he would undoubtedly punch the poor photographer right in the nose. That's what happens to him in the film — Sandra's John Lund, pokes him in the eye!

Darin, in his hurry to hit the top, has, in the past, tossed off a lot of quotable quotes for the anxious corps of columnists in Hollywood. Among them was a statement last year that "Sandra and I will never work together." So, here they are co-starring. How does he explain it? "I've learned NEVER to say NEVER again," he laughs.

He has built his success with fans on records such as "Splish, Splash," "Mack the Knife," etc. But he declines to sing in films "State Fair" (excepted). He wants to prove he can be an actor. And he's putting himself hard to the test. Before "If a Man Answers," he starred with Sidney Poitier in a film titled "Point Blank," in which he plays a crazy, mixed-up American Nazi kid. And, contrary to the usual Hollywood ending — he does not end up being a "good guy," but leaves the film as a complete "heavy."

Bobby in "If a Man Answers," really plays a straight role to Sandra Dee, who carries the action of the film, he told us. So how come he accepted this story — particularly in view of the fact he said they'd NEVER work together again?

"Well," he smiled, "I had to prove that I could also play a 'straight man.' I don't think anybody would ever believe that I could play one — so I'm doing it. At least I'm trying to do it. Maybe they're right — maybe I can't play one. Maybe I can't do anything — but I'm sure gonna try to do it."

"Straight man" Bobby Darin had just left a scene in which his screen wife had placed him in a dog house — literally in a dog house. And his "straight line" went something like this: "Woof, woof, woof-woof-woof."

A photographer snapped a picture of Darin on his high C "woof" and I would like to report that his bite is worse than his bark.

So, save the enclosed picture.

Army Deplores Air Force Plan

Enlarged Commando Force under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and Air Force headed today toward a clash over the Air Force's growing effort to move deeper into the antiguerrilla warfare business.

The crux of the issue is an Air Force proposal for $65 million to build its fledgling 850 man air commando force to about 5,000 men and develop special aircraft suited to fighting Communist guerrillas.

"The Army considers that no service should acquire counter insurgency equipment or create counter insurgency organizations which duplicate existing or planned capabilities which are the responsibility of another service," an Army spokesman said. Although this statement did not mention the Air Force, it was clearly the Army's target.

The Army staff was understood to have prepared a formal position on the issue, but the new secretary of the army, Cyrus Vance, has not yet studied it.

The Army considers it has a primary responsibility in the antiguerrilla field. One of President Kennedy's earliest acts last year was to authorize doubling the Army's antiguerrilla special forces to about 5,000 men.

Army advocates also fear the Air Force may be preparing to get into ground war operations—where the Army feels the Air Force has no right to be.

In response to questions, the Army spokesman said his service has not taken a stand that it should be given exclusive responsibility for counter insurgency operations.

But, he said, "the Army considers that each service should contribute to counter insurgency those capabilities, equipment and techniques which are typical of or peculiar to that service."

Radioactivity Fails To Harm Kids in Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten St. Louis youngsters, tested to determine how much radioactive Iodine 131 is in their thyroid glands, are apparently in no danger.

Dr. Merrill Eisenbud, professor of industrial medicine at New York University, made the tests for the U.S. Public Health Service.

The purpose was to learn how to estimate how much radioactive iodine is in the thyroid gland from the knowledge of how much is in food.

The professor said progress was made toward that aim and results would be announced by health service.

There never was any indication the children were in danger, Dr. Eisenbud continued. They were picked because an increase in the amount of Iodine 131 was noted in milk samples taken in the St. Louis area in May. Some scientists think radioactive iodine, from nuclear fall out could cause cancer in children if certain levels are exceeded.

Clifford Mitchell, director of sanitation for the St. Louis County Health Department, had said the level of Iodine 131 in the milk there had been going down for several weeks and never was high enough over an extended period to cause concern.

More Nuclear Missiles Are Readied

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's missile muscles will bulge considerably more within the next month when possibly 54 more hydrogen-tipped Atlas and Titan missiles are placed in ready to fire positions.

And next week the Air Force plans to give the world—particularly Russia and Red China — a demonstration of that rising power by hurling an Atlas more than 7,000 miles from California to the Philippine Sea.

The United States already has 81 intercontinental ballistic missiles on sentry duty at launch pads in seven western states. Of these, 54 are Atlases and 27 the more powerful Titan.

Three more bases for 12 Atlases each are reported quickly nearing completion at Schilling Air Force Base, Kan., Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb., and Altus Air Force Base, Okla.

At the same time, sources said, new bases for Titans are rounding into shape at Beale Air Force Base, Calif., and Larson Air Force Base, Wash. Each will mount nine of the mighty 90-foot tall Titans.

Meanwhile, work is moving ahead around Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana where the Air Force hopes to have the first 20 of a planned force of 800 advanced Minuteman ICBMs in combat readiness before the end of the year.

Labor troubles, which were blamed for delays in finishing the launch bases, have eased, and Air Force officials anticipate few hitches in the months ahead—unless bad weather interferes with construction.

Thus, it appears that Maj. Gen. Thomas P. Gerrity, commander of the air force's ballistic systems division, may see his prophecy come true — that "this year . . . we will triple our operational ICBM force."

And in 1963, Gerrity has predicted, "We hope to triple it again."

In all, his country is building toward a force of more than 1,000 land-based missiles able to span oceans and plaster any enemy with a staggering tonnage of hydrogen destruction.

This does not count a planned fleet of 41 nuclear powered submarines, each armed with 16 deep striking Polaris missiles—an eventual Polaris total of 656 by 1967.

So far, nine Polaris boats are in commission and next year nine more are due to join the fleet. Polaris subs have been used until now for patrolling in the north Atlantic, within range of targets in Russia.

By late next year, the Navy hopes to start operating Polaris subs in the Pacific where they could strike the Asian flank of Russia and take Red China under fire, if necessary. Some also may be sent into the Mediterranean, to cover the Communist world's underbelly.

Back in the late 1950s, there were outspoken fears in this country that the Russians would heavily outweigh the United States in missile power during the 1960s.

But U. S. intelligence estimates have been revised drastically and all talk of a "missile gap" has vanished—unless it be a gap with the Russians on the short end.

A NATO intelligence report last December said Russia is likely to have several hundred ICBMs by 1963, but that the United States will have more.

And although the Russians are credited with having perhaps 20 missile firing submarines, their rockets are of relatively short range. They are not known to have anything to match the Polaris missile, which can streak more than 1,700 miles after being launched from a submarine beneath the ocean surface.

All U. S. ICBMs—the Atlas, Titan and Minuteman—have an operational range of more than 6,300 miles. At least four Atlases have been test-fired 9,000 miles from Cape Canaveral, Fla. into the Indian Ocean.

The Atlas was the first U. S. ICBM and has been modified several times. The 54 earliest operational Atlases are on above-ground launch pads or stored in concrete coffins from which they would be raised for firing.

These are considered vulnerable to enemy missile attack, but the last 72 Atlases—starting with those emplaced a Schilling, Lincoln and Altus—will be in deep, reinforced steel and concrete holes where they would be shielded from all but a direct atomic hit.

All 13 Atlas squadrons, totaling 129 missiles, are expected to be in the hands of the Strategic Air Command combat crews by the end of this year.

The first Titans became operational only 2½ months ago and already three squadrons are on the line at Lowry Air Force Base in Colorado and at Allsworth Air Force Base in South Dakota.

These, plus three more Titan I squadrons due to join the force this year, are in "hardened" bases—that is, blastproof pits.

By the end of 1963 six squadrons of Titan II rockets—bigger and more potent than the Titan I—will swell the nation's missile arsenal in below-ground silos.

Army Deplores Air Force Plan

Enlarged Commando Force under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army and Air Force headed today toward a clash over the Air Force's growing effort to move deeper into the antiguerrilla warfare business.

The crux of the issue is an Air Force proposal for $65 million to build its fledgling 850 man air commando force to about 5,000 men and develop special aircraft suited to fighting Communist guerrillas.

"The Army considers that no service should acquire counter insurgency equipment or create counter insurgency organizations which duplicate existing or planned capabilities which are the responsibility of another service," an Army spokesman said. Although this statement did not mention the Air Force, it was clearly the Army's target.

The Army staff was understood to have prepared a formal position on the issue, but the new secretary of the army, Cyrus Vance, has not yet studied it.

The Army considers it has a primary responsibility in the antiguerrilla field. One of President Kennedy's earliest acts last year was to authorize doubling the Army's antiguerrilla special forces to about 5,000 men.

Army advocates also fear the Air Force may be preparing to get into ground war operations—where the Army feels the Air Force has no right to be.

In response to questions, the Army spokesman said his service has not taken a stand that it should be given exclusive responsibility for counter insurgency operations.

But, he said, "the Army considers that each service should contribute to counter insurgency those capabilities, equipment and techniques which are typical of or peculiar to that service."

Radioactivity Fails To Harm Kids in Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten St. Louis youngsters, tested to determine how much radioactive iodine 131 is in their thyroid glands, are apparently in no danger.

Dr. Merrill Eisenbud, professor of industrial medicine at New York University, made the tests for the U.S. Public Health Service.

The purpose was to learn how to estimate how much radioactive iodine is in the thyroid gland from the knowledge of how much is in food.

The professor said progress was made toward that aim and results would be announced by health service.

There never was any indication the children were in danger, Dr. Eisenbud continued. They were picked because an increase in the amount of iodine 131 was noted in milk amplex taken in the St. Louis area in May. Some scientists think radioactive iodine, from nuclear fall out could cause cancer in children if certain levels are exceeded.

Clifford Mitchell, director of sanitation for the St. Louis County Health Department, had said the level of iodine 131 in the milk there had been going down for several weeks and never was high enough over an extended period to cause concern.

Chapel Is Wedding Scene For Miss Keels, Mr. Allison

MRS. HOWARD ALLISON

Chrysanthemums, gladioli and ferns, accented with candelabra, decorated the altar of the Circleville Bible College Chapel on June 17 for the marriage of Miss Emily Eileen Keels and Mr. Howard Mirrell Allison.

The Rev. Joseph Johnson and the Rev. Daniel Parker officiated at the 2 p. m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Juanita Irene Keels, Columbus, and Mr. Allison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Allison, Route 1, Ashville.

Angeline Strehle presented a program of nuptial music on the church organ and Ruth May was vocalist.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, nylon and lace, designed with a Sabrina neckline, long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists and a lace petal-point overskirt. A crown of pearls held her finger tip veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible, a gift from the groom, topped with a white orchid accented with red rose buds.

Alessa Keels, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Ruth Allison, sister of the bridegroom, and Rachel Kean were bridesmaids. The attendants wore street length blue embroidered organza dresses with underskirts of blue net and taffeta. White Dior bows held their circular veils and they carried white Bibles topped with fern and red rose buds attached with white ribbon.

Connie Bosworth, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length white organza dress. White lace flowers with pearl centers and blue velvet bows trimmed the scalloped hemline.

Mr. Harvey Seitz served as best man and Mr. Boyd Barr and Mr. David Drum were ushers.

Mrs. Keels chose for her daughter's wedding a pink lace dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Allison, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pink, grey and white sheer dress. Her accessories were black and white.

A reception was held following the ceremony on the lawn of the Bible College campus. The bride's table was decorated with lilies of the valley, bells and white bows. The cakes were baked and decorated by Rose Knox. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Maxine Bosworth, Sharon Martin, Mrs. Doris Seitz and Esther Blaker.

For their wedding trip to Pike-ton the new Mrs. Allison wore a pink and white dress with white accessories. The couple will reside at 459 E. Ohio St. for the present time.

The bride is a graduate of Reynoldsburg High School and Circleville Bible College. She is employed by the Advocate Bookroom.

Mr. Allison is a graduate of Walnut Twp. High School and is employed by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Pickles' Tangy Flavor Enhances Summer Fare

By ALICE DENHOFF

Pickles lend their tang and flavor to summer menus, so it's nice to find a new way to serve them — heat the pickles after taking them out of the jar! Sweet fresh cucumber pickles and sweet mixed pickles are especially good heated.

Another good way to serve "hot pickles" is in this new relish so marvelous with fried chicken or with fish.

CREAMED PICKLE RELISH

1 (10½-oz.) can condensed cream of celery soup
½ c. milk
2 tbsp. prepared mustard
2 c. sweet mixed pickles, diced
Combine soup, milk and mustard; stir in pickles.
Heat to serving temperature.
Makes about 3 c.

When snacks are needed in a hurry, stir up a quick and tangy dip.

CREAMY RELISH DIP

1 c. sour cream
½ c. well-drained sweet pickle relish

1 (5-oz.) jar process blue cheese spread

¼ tsp. garlic powder
Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Chill.

Serve as a dip with crisp crackers.

Right now, at the beginning of the summer menu season, is the right time to introduce a new and delicious luncheon salad.

SPICY BOLOGNA TOSSED SALAD

2 medium-sized carrots, finely diced
3 c. torn romaine
3 c. torn lettuce
½ c. diced celery
2 medium-sized tomatoes, cut in wedges
3 c. cubed bologna, about ½-inch cubes
1-3 c. salad oil
½ c. well-drained sweet pickle relish
1 tsp. sweet pickle liquid
1 tsp. onion salt
1-3 c. water.
Combine first 6 ingredients in

Newest Clothes Designed To Grow with Your Baby

By ELEANOR ROSS

Children's fashions that "grow" with the child were introduced some years ago. Different garments came with various features which allowed Mother to extend them up and down or from here to there.

Now there is a fabric that grows. It is being used in baby clothes and it is something to look for when shopping either for your own baby or for the baby of a relative or friend.

Even though the baby happens to be your own, you can still make mistakes in sizes when you shop. But not when you buy clothes made of this excellent knit-to-fit fabric which is said to make a little garment just right from birth up to when Baby weighs 20 to 30 pounds.

This kind of adjustability is also very helpful when you are shopping for somebody else's baby and do not know whether the infant is large, small or in-between in size.

It goes without saying that this soft, downy, practical fabric washes beautifully and dries quickly with no ironing needed. And any baby is going to be more comfortable in clothing that permits unrestricted movement and, really, that's the main object of this new development.

If you are planning to take Baby on his first long car trip, don't be overwhelmed by the number of items you think have to travel with the little one. Actually, you can streamline Baby's travel needs just as you streamline your own.

One good recommendation is to provide a large-size diaper bag as his chief piece of luggage. In fact, it may well be the only piece he will need for his wardrobe of comfortable, practical wash-wearables.

Some examples are terrycloth sunsuits, crawlers which can be sudsed and dried in double-quick time, lightweight Orlon sweaters and small blankets that take up so little space and are easy to launder in transit.

If you anticipate an occasion for dress-up duds, pack a little Dacron dress or diaper set. These are extremely practical, but also dainty and dressy.

A one-piece sleeper can do double duty for both day and night wear.

When you can suds out a tiny garment or two in the washbowl each night and have them ready for Baby to wear next day, he can get along nicely with a minimum of travel togs.

A large diaper bag is practical as a carryall, too, because it is flexible enough to stow in the car anywhere. And its sturdy outside fabric can be swabbed off with a sponge dipped into suds.

When you are preparing any open-faced sandwiches that are to go under the broiler, be sure to cover the edges of the bread with the filling so they won't scorch.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

What Clergymen Are For!

DEAR ABBY: If a husband and wife tried for years to have a child and they failed, and they went to several doctors who all agreed there was nothing wrong with either of them, and if the wife stepped out and got in a family way and had a strong, healthy boy who the husband thought was his, should the husband and son be told? The boy is now a senior in high school and we love him more than anything on this earth. This has been on my conscience for 17 years. They say that confession is good for the soul.

MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If you feel the need to confess, confess to your clergyman. Telling your husband and son would serve no good purpose.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. She refused to be called "Grandma." She wants to be called "Mamma"—which is what my children call ME!

My own mother doesn't mind being called "Grandma." How can you explain to small children that they are both grandmothers, but one should be called "Mamma"? I don't want to stir up trouble but don't know how to avoid it. The grandmother who thinks she is too young to be called "Grandma" is in her fifties. My own mother is in her late forties.

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: No grandmother should insist on being called "Mamma." Tell your children to call her "Grandma Mary" (or whatever her name is) if she feels that being called "Grandma" ages her.

DEAR ABBY: I have an extremely sensitive 12-year-old daughter. She is very big for her age, and from the number of times she has heard it from adults who should know better, she certainly knows it by now. Her father is 6 ft. 4) and I am big (5 ft. 11), so where would we get a small child? This child has been hurt badly when grown-ups see her for the first time and say, "My, she's big for her age!" Please print this for people who need to be told. There are so many of them.

JUST A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Thank you for calling this to my attention. I probably have been an offender without realizing it. And while we're on the subject—the same goes for thoughtless adults who say, "My, isn't he SMALL for his age?"

CONFIDENTIAL TO RUBE:
You are certainly "broad-minded." (No pun intended). Settle out of court, if possible.

How is the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Both varieties of mint — peppermint and spearmint — come dried. Use peppermint to give a fillip to cooked peas; add the spearmint to a green cabbage salad. But remember that a little of this herb goes a long way.

Chapel Is Wedding Scene For Miss Keels, Mr. Allison

MRS. HOWARD ALLISON

Chrysanthemums, gladioli and ferns, accented with candelabra, decorated the altar of the Circleville Bible College Chapel on June 17 for the marriage of Miss Emily Eileen Keels and Mr. Howard Mirrell Allison.

The Rev. Joseph Johnson and the Rev. Daniel Parker officiated at the 2 p. m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Juanita Irene Keels, Columbus, and Mr. Allison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Allison, Route 1, Ashville.

Angeline Strehle presented a program of nuptial music on the church organ and Ruth May was vocalist.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, nylon and lace, designed with a Sabrina neckline, long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists and a lace petal-point overskirt. A crown of pearls held her finger tip veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible, a gift from the groom, topped with a white orchid accented with red rose buds.

Alesia Keels, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Ruth Allison, sister of the bridegroom, and Rachel Kean were bridesmaids. The attendants wore street length blue embroidered organza dresses with underskirts of blue net and taffeta. White Dior bows held their circular veils and they carried white Bibles topped with fern and red rose buds attached with white ribbon.

Connie Bosworth, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length white organza dress. White lace flowers with pearl centers and blue velvet bows trimmed the scalloped hemline.

Mr. Harvey Seitz served as best man and Mr. Boyd Barr and Mr. David Drum were ushers.

Mrs. Keels chose for her daughter's wedding a pink lace dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Allison, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pink, grey and white sheer dress. Her accessories were black and white.

A reception was held following the ceremony on the lawn of the Bible College campus. The bride's table was decorated with lilies of the valley, bells and white bows. The cakes were baked and decorated by Rose Knox. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Maxine Bosworth, Sharon Martin, Mrs. Doris Seitz and Esther Blaker.

For their wedding trip to Pike-ton the new Mrs. Allison wore a pink and white dress with white accessories.

The couple will reside at 459 E. Ohio St., for the present time.

The bride is a graduate of Reynoldsburg High School and Circleville Bible College. She is employed by the Advocate Bookroom.

Mr. Allison is a graduate of Walnut Twp. High School and is employed by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Rotary Blasts To Fourth Win

The Elks Nine Cops Sixth League Win

Rotary roared to their fourth consecutive victory with a 23-5 romp over Third National in little league minor action last night. IOOF won by a forfeit over Circleville Oil when not enough players showed up for the game, and Second National defeated First National 14-5.

BPOE doubled the score, 6-3, on American Legion in the only game scheduled in little league majors.

Rotary has now scored 71 runs and 75 hits in their last three games to bring their season record to a 4-4. Tommy Rowland banged a home run, and two doubles for a perfect night at the plate. Wayne Garrison banged a double and two singles in three trips, Gary Dumm socked a double and two singles in five trips and Bob Triplehorn had three singles. Winning pitcher, Dave Hopkins, was two for two with two singles and Dave Roy also singled twice. Dave Kasper banged a double in one trip to the plate.

Danny Hettinger socked a triple and single and Lawrence Gillian banged a double and a single for the losers. Don Coates socked a double for the only other extra base hit of the game.

Rotary pulled the first triple play of the year in the fourth inning. With the bases loaded, the ball was popped up to the pitcher who threw to the shortstop who relayed the throw to third for the triple play.

Although out 6-4, the Elks registered their sixth win of the season. Mike Smith paced the winning attack with two hits and Charles Walisa scored two runs. Marion Corne and Dan Radcliffe each had two hits for the losers.

The winning hurler was Brice Brown. Nickey Wickerham also pitched for BPOE and Frank Carter hurled for the American Legion nine. American Legion now has a season mark of 4-5 to BPOE's 6-4.

VFW Defeats 3rd National Bank 10-3

The VFW handed the Third National Bank a 10-3 loss yesterday in Babe Ruth minor league play. It marked the third league win for the Veterans.

The only game scheduled in the Babe Ruth majors — Lindseys vs. L. M. Butch — was postponed until July 11. The major league all-stars competed in the tournament at Springfield.

The VFW nine took the lead in the third inning of their game with the Bankers and were never in trouble after that. Their big inning was the seventh when they scored five runs.

The winners needed only four hits to produce their game winning total. Charlie Hill paced the win, scoring three runs on one hit, a triple. Bill Hill and L. Hill and Dan Grant all tallied one run on one hit.

Lewis Jordan was the big gun for the losers, blasting a homerun and a single in three times at bat. Tom Griffey tagged a double and Ron Bensonhaver singled to round out the Banker's hitting attack.

Western Reserve Star Signed by Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have signed Terry Wenger, shortstop from Western Reserve University here. He will report to the Tribe's Charleston affiliate in the Class A Eastern League.

Wenger, 22, is a graduate of Canton South High School. Besides his baseball skill, Wenger was captain of the WRU basketball team the last two seasons.

Tribe Gains First Place In AL Race

CLEVELAND (AP) — Back in sole possession of the American League lead and riding their long-eve wave of victories this season—five games—the Cleveland Indians are seeking revenge on the Chicago White Sox here this week-end.

The Tribe's 5-3 triumph over Chicago Friday night ended a string of five straight White Sox victories over Cleveland.

Previous humiliation at the hands of the seventh-place Pale Hose included two straight shutout defeats at the hand of the American League's old man, Early Wynn, now 4-6.

But the 27-year-old Wynn, seeking the 29th triumph in his career, was the loser Friday night, chased after 4-1-3 innings. He gave up four runs on seven hits.

Ruben Gomez was the winner, though he was rapped for 11 hits and needed help from Gary Bell to get the last two outs after a single by Charlie Maxwell scored Floyd Robinson and put the tying run on base in the ninth. It was the first victory for the former National Leaguer since he was brought up three weeks ago from Jacksonville.

Gomez held the Sox to one run on seven hits in the first seven innings.

Cleveland got off to a 2-0 lead in the first when Don Dillard tripled after Ty Cline's safe punt and scored on an infield out.

A single by Willie Kirkland was the only Cleveland hit in a two-run rally in the fifth. Tito Francona's punt single, a sacrifice, wild pitch and ground-out netted the final Cleveland run in the seventh.

REST PERIOD—Phillie manager Gene Mauch, suspended for several days after being tossed out of a game in San Francisco, watches his charges from the stands.

Something He Ate

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP) — George Sandell Jr. fell while working on a scaffold. He was taken to a hospital but doctors said his back was not hurt.

Rotary Blasts To Fourth Win

The Elks Nine Cops Sixth League Win

Rotary roared to their fourth consecutive victory with a 23-5 romp over Third National in little league minor action last night. IOOF won by a forfeit over Circleville Oil when not enough players showed up for the game, and Second National defeated First National 14-5.

BPOE doubled the score, 6-3, on American Legion in the only game scheduled in little league majors.

Rotary has now scored 71 runs and 75 hits in their last three games to bring their season record to a 4-4. Tommy Rowland banged a home run, and two doubles for a perfect night at the plate. Wayne Garrison banged a double and two singles in three trips, Gary Dumm socked a double and two singles in five trips and Bob Triplehorn had three singles. Winning pitcher, Dave Hopkins, was two for two with two singles and Dave Roy also singled twice. Dave Kasper banged a double in one trip to the plate.

Danny Hettinger socked a triple and single and Lawrence Gillian banged a double and a single for the losers. Don Coates socked a double for the only other extra base hit of the game.

Rotary pulled the first triple play of the year in the fourth inning. With the bases loaded, the ball was popped up to the pitcher who threw to the shortstop who relayed the throw to third for the triple play.

Although outthit 6-4, the Elks registered their sixth win of the season. Mike Smith paced the winning attack with two hits and Charles Walisa scored two runs. Marion Corne and Dan Radcliffe each had two hits for the losers.

The winning hurler was Brice Brown. Nicky Wickerham also pitched for BPOE and Frank Carter hurled for the American Legion nine. American Legion now has a season mark of 4-5 to BPOE's 6-4.

VFW Defeats 3rd National Bank 10-3

The VFW handed the Third National Bank a 10-3 loss yesterday in Babe Ruth minor league play. It marked the third league win for the Veterans.

The only game scheduled in the Babe Ruth majors — Lindseys vs. L. M. Butch — was postponed until July 11. The major league all-stars competed in the tournament at Springfield.

The VFW nine took the lead in the third inning of their game with the Bankers and were never in trouble after that. Their big inning was the seventh when they scored five runs.

The winners needed only four hits to produce their game winning total. Charlie Hill paced the win, scoring three runs on one hit, a triple. Bill Hill and L. Hill and Dan Grant all tallied one run on one hit.

Lewis Jordan was the big gun for the losers, blasting a homerun and a single in three times at bat. Tom Griffey tagged a double and Ron Bensonhaver singled to round out the Banker's hitting attack.

Western Reserve Star Signed by Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have signed Terry Wenger, shortstop from Western Reserve University here. He will report to the Tribe's Charleston affiliate in the Class A Eastern League.

Wenger, 22, is a graduate of Canton South High School. Besides his baseball skill, Wenger was captain of the WRU basketball team the last two seasons.

Tribe Gains First Place In AL Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—Back in sole possession of the American League lead and riding their longest wave of victories this season—five games—the Cleveland Indians are seeking revenge on the Chicago White Sox here this weekend.

The Tribe's 5-3 triumph over Chicago Friday night ended a string of five straight White Sox victories over Cleveland.

Previous humiliation at the hands of the seventh-place Pale Hose included two straight shutout defeats at the hand of the American League's old man, Early Wynn, now 4-6.

But the 42-year-old Wynn, seeking the 29th triumph in his career, was the loser Friday night, chased after 4-13 innings. He gave up four runs on seven hits.

Ruben Gomez was the winner, though he was rapped for 11 hits and needed help from Gary Bell to get the last two outs after a single by Charlie Maxwell scored Floyd Robinson and put the tying run on base in the ninth. It was the first victory for the former National Leaguer since he was brought up three weeks ago from Jacksonville.

Gomez held the Sox to one run on seven hits in the first seven innings.

Cleveland got off to a 2-0 lead in the first when Don Dillard tripled after Ty Cline's safe bunt and scored on an infield out.

A single by Willie Kirkland was the only Cleveland hit in a two-run rally in the fifth. Tito Francona's bunt single, a sacrifice, wild pitch and ground-out netted the final Cleveland run in the seventh.

REST PERIOD—Phillie manager Gene Mauch, suspended for several days after being tossed out of a game in San Francisco, watches his charges from the stands.

Pleasantville Gets Watts As Grid Pilot

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Two Fairfield County high schools named new football coaches Friday, one a veteran coach who is returning to the field after a business career.

Wade Watts, 43, former head football coach at Canton McKinley, East Liverpool and Kent Roosevelt high schools, and until recently a securities salesman in Cleveland, will be the new coach at Fairfield Union at Pleasantville—a newly consolidated high school.

Watts will replace Robert Hamm, who left to coach at Lancaster High School. In Watts, 17-year-football coaching career, he had a record of 102 wins, 34 losses and 6 ties. He has been in private business for four years. He was selected as Ohio coach of the year on three separate occasions.

Wallace B. Feix, 32, formerly football coach at the Russell, Ky., High School for seven years, was named to coach at Berne Union High School at Sugar Grove in Fairfield County. He replaces Charles Brockmeyer.

Denny Moyer Set For Wright Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The fighting Moyer, Denny and Phil, are getting to be Teddy Wright's favorite boxers.

Thanks to the middleweight brothers from Portland, Ore., the Detroit 152-pounder has been able to earn television paydays in May and June and he goes again tonight against Denny Moyer at Madison Square Garden. The 10-rounder will be telecast (ABC TV, 9 p.m. EST) nationally.

The 25-year-old Wright out-pointed both Phil and Denny within a two weeks span. Despite this, Teddy is rated as a 2-1 underdog in his return with Denny, the better of the two brothers.

M&M Boys Fire Homer Explosion

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Healthy Roger Maris and hobbled Mickey Mantle have detonated a homer explosion for the New York Yankees. But the world champions' sluggers had to share some of the spotlight today with a former National Leaguer who led Cleveland back into first place in the American League.

While the M&M boys each hammered two homers in a 7-5 bombing of Minnesota Friday, 35-year-old veteran right-hander Ruben Gomez won his first game in the AL as the Indians extended their longest winning streak of the season to five games by beating the Chicago White Sox 5-3.

Gomez' triumph enabled the Indians to break a deadlock with Los Angeles for the top spot. Belted by Boston 12-7, the Angels

Colts Derail Jay on Route To 21 Wins

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joey Jay's drive toward another 21-game winning season hit a detour Friday night when the Houston Colts took the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0.

Three hits in the second inning, plus an error, beat Big Joey.

Hal Woodeshick of the Colts, gaining his third victory against six losses, threw the shutout despite eight Red hits and four Houston errors. The players the Reds bank on to knock in the runs couldn't find the range.

For one of the few times since Frank Robinson, last year's National League most valuable player, joined the team, he was booed. That was in the eighth inning after he struck out with runners on first and second and one out. The inning ended when Wally Post, who had been on a hitting spree, also failed.

Aside from the second inning, Jay, now 11-8, pitched creditably. He allowed only five hits, struck out eight in going seven innings.

Woodeshick, a southpaw, meanwhile was aided by a couple of double plays in becoming the third pitcher to blank Cincinnati this year.

Norm Larker opened the winning rally with a single. Leo Cardenas made a back-handed stop of Carl Warwick's single to deep short, but threw wild trying to force Larker. Merritt Ranew lined to Vada Pinson, scoring Larker, and Bob Lillis singled, scoring Warwick.

Jets Lose Gear, Postpone Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Runs were scarce again Friday night in the International League, as rain and a misdirected equipment trunk cut the normal schedule in half.

Both games played were one-run affairs. Second place Toronto put together a four-run cluster in the seventh inning to whip Rochester 4-3 and Syracuse trimmed Buffalo 3-2.

Rain postponed Richmond at Atlanta and the game between the Columbus Jets and the league-leading Jacksonville Suns was postponed when the Columbus equipment failed to arrive at Jacksonville.

The Toronto victory allowed the Maple Leafs to pick up a half game on the Suns. They now trail by eight. The Leafs, down 3-0, scored four in the seventh when Steve Demeter sent home the tying and winning runs.

M&M Boys Fire Homer Explosion

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Healthy Roger Maris and hobbled Mickey Mantle have detonated a homer explosion for the New York Yankees. But the world champions' sluggers had to share some of the spotlight today with a former National Leaguer who led Cleveland back into first place in the American League.

While the M&M boys each hammered two homers in a 7-5 bombing of Minnesota Friday, 35-year-old veteran right-hander Ruben Gomez won his first game in the AL as the Indians extended their longest winning streak of the season to five games by beating the Chicago White Sox 5-3.

Gomez' triumph enabled the Indians to break a deadlock with Los Angeles for the top spot. Belied by Boston 12-7, the Angels tumbled into third place, a game back, while the Yankees moved into second place, a half-length back of the leaders in the tight race.

Maris and Mantle were the story again for the Yankees. Maris hit his first homer with two on in the first inning and Mantle followed with his 16th. Mantle tagged another in the third, tying a major league record with homers in four consecutive at-bats, before Maris wound it up with his 21st, in the fifth inning.

The homers were the eighth and ninth in 11 games for Maris and his fifth in five games, while Mantle, still slowed by leg injuries, has hit eight in nine games and seven in the last five. The Yankees now have a team total of 106.

A pinch-hit homer by Vic Wertz in the bottom of the ninth gave Detroit a 5-4 decision over Baltimore. Kansas City used a 7-run eighth inning outburst to whip Washington 12-9 in other AL games.

In the National League, San Francisco moved within a half-game of first-place Los Angeles by wallowing the Dodgers 12-3. Philadelphia knocked off third-place Pittsburgh 6-2, the New York Mets drubbed St. Louis 10-3, Houston blanked Cincinnati 2-0 and Milwaukee edged the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in 10 innings.

Maris drove in four runs with his homers and Mantle accounted for two, but Ralph Terry (11-7) needed Luis Arroyo's no-hit relief for the final 2-1-3 innings to post the victory. Terry left after a pinch-hit homer by George Banks in the seventh.

Gomez (1-1), formerly with the Phillies and Giants, was picked up by the Indians from Jacksonville of the International League. He scattered 11 hits before the White Sox caught up with him in the ninth and Gary Bell came on to get the final two outs. Early Wynn (4-6) was the loser.

Retreads of Old Movie Hits To Be Aired on Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Next season will see television continuing a trend of recent years—retreads of old movie hits.

Whenever producers are stuck for a new series idea, they search the vaults. The 1962-63 season will see three new shows based on movie classics.

Gene Kelly will be starring in Bing Crosby's old cask with an hour-long "Going My Way." Fess Parker subs for James Stewart in a half-hour "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

"The Virginians" shapes up as a 90-minute Western based on the Owen Wister book, "The Virginian," which was filmed at least three times.

They will join four other series that stemmed from films: "Dr. Kildare," "Cheyenne," "Lassie," and "Dobie Gillis." Few recall that the latter was once a feature starring Bobby Van and a youngster named Debbie Reynolds.

Viewers will doubtless be seeing other adaptations in the future, too. MGM has filmed a half-hour version of the Andy Hardy series with Jimmy Hawkins in the Mickey Rooney role (why not give it to Mick? He needs the work).

MGM also has versions of "The Belles Are Ringing," "Designing Woman," "Boom Town," and "Woman of the Year" in the works. Fox has announced plans for cutting down "12 O'Clock High" and "Three Coins in the Fountain" to home-screen size.

This sort of thing has been going on for years, with the odds heavy against movie adaptations. Last season saw the demise of five such series: "Marge," "Father of the Bride," "Bus Stop," "National Velvet" and "Room for One More."

In the earlier days of television, "Mama" ran up a long stand with Peggy Wood playing the role that Irene Dunne created in "I Remember Mama."

Ancient Law Is Protecting Runaway Spy

LONDON (AP)—A complex legal wrangle loomed today over runaway spy Robert Soblen's last-chance gamble to cheat American justice.

Soblen himself lay in the hospital behind the grim gray walls of London's Brixton Jail—protected, for the moment, by one of the oldest laws of England.

A writ of habeas corpus granted by a high court judge Friday kept the 62-year-old fugitive safe for at least another 10 days.

The writ blocked his immediate return to the United States—and a life jail sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

Soblen's attorneys followed this move with an application that he be granted asylum in Britain.

The Home Office announced it could not consider this application until after the habeas corpus hearing July 17. And Soblen cannot be shipped out of the country until the court hears the case.

Bleeding from self-inflicted wounds in his wrists and abdomen, he was rushed to Hillingdon Sunday from the Israeli airliner flying him from Israel to the United States.

Jumping $100,000 bail, Soblen earlier had fled to Israel on a forged passport after an American court rejected his appeal from the life sentence.

Solon Takes Action on Traffic Jam

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Washington, almost everybody talks about the traffic jams. Sen. Wayne Morse did something about one the other day.

The Oregon Democrat hit a bottleneck last Monday on busy Massachusetts Avenue at the height of the morning rush hour. The stopper, he found, was a district highway worker painting a crosswalk. A barricade halted traffic in the left lane, while cars cruising along the inside lane swept past bumper to bumper.

Morse suggested the highway worker could ease the jam by directing the traffic so that cars in the two lanes could take turns getting past the barricade. The painter replied it wasn't his job.

So Morse headed for the District Building—Washington's city hall—and complained to Highway Director Harold L. Aitken.

Aitken called the painter on the carpet, transferred him to a job which won't involve contact with the public, and reminded street-painting supervisors that they aren't supposed to be painting during the rush hours.

"We can't have a public relations man on every job in the city," Aitken said Thursday, "but all of us should do our best for the people we are serving."

Sales, Motor Vehicle Taxes Register Drop

Prepaid sales tax receipts and advance payments in Pickaway County are down 13.6 per cent for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962.

Sales Tax collections totaled $231,603.76 for the year compared to $268,145.80 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960.

Motor vehicle tax collections were down 4.5 per cent in the county. A total of $138,566.74 were collected this year.

Sales taxes from the 88 counties for the recently completed fiscal year showed a drop of more than $9 million, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson. At the same time, he said, motor vehicle sales tax collections showed an increase of $24 million.

Showing the greatest percentage of increase in general sales tax collections was Fayette County with an increase of about 44.6 per cent. It was reported that the major reason for the large increase is due to the fact that a state wide chain store is filing all of its sales tax reports from that one county.

Also showing sizeable increases were Franklin County — up 10.4 per cent — and Carroll county — up 4.7 per cent.

Morgan county reported the largest gains on motor vehicle collections with a 24.2 per cent increase.

$10,000 Suit Filed against Telephone Co.

A $10,000 lawsuit has been filed with the Pickaway County Clerk of Courts against The General Telephone Company.

H. Earl Reed, Ashville, is the plaintiff of the court action acting as administrator of the estate of William E. Reed, his son who died nearly two years ago.

The $10,000 judgement is being asked of the telephone company as the result of an accident which occurred July 2, 1960.

The petition stated that Reed's son was riding on top of a load of hay on the Circleville-Lockbourne Eastern Road when he was struck in the mouth and injured by a telephone wire erected across the highway by the phone company.

REED says that his son suffered severe lacerations of the face and mouth, a broken jaw, teeth, and injuries to his neck, head and spine.

His petition stated that as the result of the accident, it was necessary for him to spend about $450 for dental care and treatment by a physician.

Robert Huffer is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Japan Is Cool On JFK Idea

TOKYO (AP)—Industrialists and government officials today greeted with pessimism the Kennedy administration proposal that Japanese industries invest in factories in the United States.

The consensus appeared to be: What would be gained by moving into a high-wage labor market when we have comparatively low wages here at home?

"We could not compete with American industry because of their highly advanced situation," declared Toshiya Hiramatsu, an executive of the huge Mitsui Petrochemicals Industries, Ltd. "We would rather stress increasing exports than build factories in the States."

The U.S. government had suggested foreign investment in building U.S. factories as a means to improve America's balance of payments and to create job opportunities in certain areas.

But the Japanese pointed out that they too have an adverse balance of payment situation, a problem of more dollars going out than coming in.

Shigeru Sasaki, a spokesman for the huge Hitachi Manufacturing Co., electrical equipment, said the lower wage paid by the Japanese was the key to their survival in international competition.

He expressed hope the United States would ease its immigration laws to permit entry of Japanese workers. U.S. Embassy sources here, however, stressed the Kennedy administration proposal includes no easing of any existing barriers.

Nagato Kobayashi, of the Matsushita Electrical Co., which has a sales firm in New York City, said "If the proposed areas are appropriate enough for industry, American industries would have built their factories there long ago."

Areas mentioned as possible for foreign investments sites included Maine, New Jersey, North Carolina, Kansas and the West Coast.

Wool Incentive Payments Set By USDA

The United States Department of Agriculture has announced that shorn wool payments for the 1961 marketing year will amount to 44.5 per cent of the dollar return each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1961 year.

This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $44.50 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the year. This compares to a payment of $47.60 per $100 of marketings for the 1960 marketing year.

USDA also announced a payment rate of 76 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage the unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

The Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office will begin making payments soon, according to J. Austin Dowden, office manager, for the local ASC County Committee.

Applications for payment had to be filed with the county office before April 30 of this year to be eligible for the payments for the 1961 marketing year. Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1961 through March 31, 1962.

The shorn wool payment rate for the 1961 marketing year was determined on the basis of the difference between the national average price of 42.9 received by growers for shorn wool and the 62 cents per pound incentive level announced for the 1961 marketing year.

Sheriff Spangler To Return Today With Prisoner

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler is scheduled to return today from Las Vegas, Nevada, with a prisoner, Matthew Wham, who is being extradited to Ohio.

Spangler flew to the Nevada resort city Thursday to pick up Wham. A one-hour delay in flight time from Columbus necessitated the sheriff spending an extra day in Las Vegas.

The delay caused him to miss connections in Chicago, making him four hours late in Las Vegas. He arrived there too late to make reservations on the next return flight, and was forced to lay over the extra day.

Retreads of Old Movie Hits To Be Aired on Television

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Next season will see television continuing a trend of recent years—retreads of old movie hits.

Whenever producers are stuck for a new series idea, they search the vaults. The 1962-63 season will see three new shows based on movie classics.

Gene Kelly will be starring in Bing Crosby's old cask with an hour-long "Going My Way." Fess Parker subs for James Stewart in a half-hour "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

"The Virginians" shapes up as a 90-minute Western based on the Owen Wister book, "The Virginian," which was filmed at least three times.

They will join four other series that stemmed from films: "Dr. Kildare," "Cheyenne," "Lassie," and "Dobie Gillis." Few recall that the latter was once a feature starring Bobby Van and a young-ster named Debbie Reynolds.

Viewers will doubtless be seeing other adaptations in the future, too. MGM has filmed a half-hour version of the Andy Hardy series with Jimmy Hawkins in the Mickey Rooney role (why not give it to Mick? He needs the work).

MGM also has versions of "The Bells Are Ringing," "Designing Woman," "Boom Town," and "Woman of the Year" in the works. Fox has announced plans for cutting down "12 O'Clock High" and "Three Coins in the Fountain" to home-screen size.

This sort of thing has been going on for years, with the odds heavy against movie adaptations. Last season saw the demise of five such series: "Margie," "Father of the Bride," "Bus Stop," "National Velvet" and "Room for One More."

Ancient Law Is Protecting Runaway Spy

LONDON (AP)—A complex legal wrangle loomed today over runaway spy Robert Soblen's last-chance gamble to cheat American justice.

Soblen himself lay in the hospital behind the grim gray walls of London's Brixton Jail—protected, for the moment, by one of the oldest laws of England.

A writ of habeas corpus granted by a high court judge Friday kept the 62-year-old fugitive safe for at least another 10 days.

The writ blocked his immediate return to the United States—and a life jail sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

Soblen's attorneys followed this move with an application that he be granted asylum in Britain.

The Home Office announced it could not consider this application until after the habeas corpus hearing July 17. And Soblen cannot be shipped out of the country until the court hears the case.

Bleeding from self-inflicted wounds in his wrists and abdomen, he was rushed to Hillingdon Sunday from the Israeli airliner flying him from Israel to the United States.

Jumping $100,000 bail, Soblen earlier had fled to Israel on a forged passport after an American court rejected his appeal from the life sentence.

Sales, Motor Vehicle Taxes Register Drop

Prepaid sales tax receipts and advance payments in Pickaway County are down 13.6 per cent for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962.

Sales Tax collections totaled $231,603.76 for the year compared to $268,145.80 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960.

Motor vehicle tax collections were down 4.5 per cent in the county. A total of $158,566.74 were collected this year.

Sales taxes from the 88 counties for the recently completed fiscal year showed a drop of more than $9 million, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson. At the same time, he said, motor vehicle sales tax collections showed an increase of $24 million.

Showing the greatest percentage of increase in general sales tax collections was a Fayette County with an increase of about 44.6 per cent. It was reported that the major reason for the large increase is due to the fact that a state wide chain store is filing all of its sales tax reports from that one county.

Also showing sizeable increases were Franklin County — up 10.4 per cent — and Carroll county — up 4.7 per cent.

Morgan county reported the largest gains on motor vehicle collections with a 24.2 per cent increase.

$10,000 Suit Filed against Telephone Co.

A $10,000 lawsuit has been filed with the Pickaway County Clerk of Courts against The General Telephone Company.

H. Earl Reed, Ashville, is the plaintiff of the court action acting as administrator of the estate of William E. Reed, his son who died nearly two years ago.

The $10,000 judgement is being asked of the telephone company as the result of an accident which occurred July 2, 1960.

The petition stated that Reed's son was riding on top of a load of hay on the Circleville-Lockbourne Eastern Road when he was struck in the mouth and injured by a telephone wire erected across the highway by the phone company.

REED says that his son suffered severe lacerations of the face and mouth, a broken jaw, teeth, and injuries to his neck, head and spine.

His petition stated that as the result of the accident, it was necessary for him to spend about $450 for dental care and treatment by a physician.

Robert Huffer is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Japan Is Cool On JFK Idea

Building Plants in U.S. Not Considered Wise

TOKYO (AP)—Industrialists and government officials today greeted with pessimism the Kennedy administration proposal that Japanese industries invest in factories in the United States.

The consensus appeared to be: What would be gained by moving into a high-wage labor market when we have comparatively low wages here at home?

"We could not compete with American industry because of their highly advanced situation," declared Toshiya Hiramatsu, an executive of the huge Mitsui Petrochemicals Industries, Ltd. "We would rather stress increasing exports than build factories in the States."

The U.S. government had suggested foreign investment in building U.S. factories as a means to improve America's balance of payments and to create job opportunities in certain areas.

But the Japanese pointed out that they too have an adverse balance of payment situation, a problem of more dollars going out than coming in.

Shigeru Sasaki, a spokesman for the huge Hitachi Manufacturing Co., electrical equipment, said the lower wage paid by the Japanese was the key to their survival in international competition.

He expressed hope the United States would ease its immigration laws to permit entry of Japanese workers. U.S. Embassy sources here, however, stressed the Kennedy administration proposal includes no easing of any existing barriers.

Nagato Kobayashi, of the Matsushita Electrical Co., which has a sales firm in New York City, said "If the proposed areas are appropriate enough for industry, American industries would have built their factories there long ago."

Areas mentioned as possible foreign investments sites included Maine, New Jersey, North Carolina, Kansas and the West Coast.

Sheriff Spangler To Return Today With Prisoner

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton Spangler is scheduled to return today from Las Vegas, Nevada, with a prisoner, Matthew Wham, who is being extradited to Ohio.

Spangler flew to the Nevada resort city Thursday to pick up Wham. A one-hour delay in flight time from Columbus necessitated the sheriff spending an extra day in Las Vegas.

The delay caused him to miss connections in Chicago, making him four hours late in Las Vegas. He arrived there too late to make reservations on the next return flight, and was forced to lay over the extra day.

Wool Incentive Payments Set By USDA

The United States Department of Agriculture has announced that shorn wool payments for the 1961 marketing year will amount to 44.5 per cent of the dollar return each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the 1961 year.

This will result in an incentive payment to producers of $44.50 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the year. This compares to a payment of $47.60 per $100 of marketings for the 1960 marketing year.

USDA also announced a payment rate of 76 cents per hundred-weight on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn wool payment and is designed to discourage the unusual shearing of lambs before marketing.

The Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office will begin making payments soon, according to J. Austin Dowden, office manager, for the local ASC County Committee.

Applications for payment had to be filed with the county office before April 30 of this year to be eligible for the payments for the 1961 marketing year. Payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1, 1961 through March 31, 1962.

The shorn wool payment rate for the 1961 marketing year was determined on the basis of the difference between the national average price of 42.9 received by growers for shorn wool and the 62 cents per pound incentive level announced for the 1961 marketing year.

Deputies Probe Two Burglaries

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today continued the investigation of two burglaries that occurred in the northwestern section of the county.

Deputy George Linder said that an estimated loss of $500 resulted in a burglary of the Brunner Brothers Meat Market, near Harrisburg.

The incident occurred early Thursday morning. Intruders made off with three or four sides of beef, a front quarter and round of beef, and several loaves of luncheon meat.

Linder said that entry was gained by breaking a window glass. A shovel was used to pry the rear door casing for removal of the fresh meat. Doors to two refrigerated meat coolers were left open by the burglars and a considerable amount of meat was contaminated.

A SECOND incident occurred last night at the B. R. Nixon Farm, near Five Points. Pad locks on several buildings were broken and ransacking was reported to the department by Nixon. He also stated that gasoline had been drained from a tractor.

Both incidents are under investigation, Deputy Linder added.
